In the event that the hold is not clean or the means of transport is in an unsuitable condition, the consignor is entitled to refuse loading and to request a replacement means of transport. If, for this reason, the schedule is disrupted and the customer's unloading date is not met, or the shipper's loading schedule is disrupted, and the shipper incurs costs or damages in connection therewith, the carrier shall fully reimburse the shipper for such costs or damages. The carrier must be present at the loading.
